On June 7, 2007, City Council approved a contract for an upgrade to the Austin-Bergstrom International Airport security system in an amount not to exceed $7,570,117.80. This upgrade, which began on July 12, 2007, includes an access control system, closed circuit television system (CCTV), and conversion of existing key-lock doors to a "cyberkey" system that integrates with the access control system.

This proposed Amendment No. 1 will provide for additional cameras for the CCTV system as well as other work needed to respond to Federal security directives within an expedited timeframe.
